

moveeffect – more than just an employer

As an innovative and growing tech company, we're committed to supporting our clients with their corporate health management needs every day.

Our all-in-one digital solution, moveeffect, is designed to keep employees fit, motivated and live healthier, more active lives.

We're currently seeking a talented and dedicated software developer to join our team as a Product Development Lead.

In this role, you will work directly with our CTO to implement the product roadmap and shape the structures and processes for the development and operation of our all-in-one software (mobile/web/backend). If you are passionate about software development and want to make a difference in the world of corporate health and fitness, we invite you to apply for this exciting opportunity.

Lead Developer Full-Stack/Engineering Team Lead (m/w/d)

Location: Linz, Wien or remote

Your Responsibilities:

- Sustainable development and implementation of an efficient technology strategy
- Hands-on software development (front-end/mobile, back-end, APIs)
- Shaping the product roadmap directly with the management team
- Further development of the team and integration of new talents (with the CTO)
- Ensuring performance and security of your own software solutions
- Ongoing analysis of the latest technology trends and competitor solutions
- Coordination of collaboration with partners (outsourcing) and driving in-housing

Your Profile:

- Degree in computer science, business informatics or similar or corresponding practical experience
- 3+ years of experience as a software engineer, software architect, development lead or in a comparable role (user-facing web or mobile app, cloud infrastructure)
- You take responsibility, make decisions and think entrepreneurially
- You have a strong hands-on mentality combined with a strategic big-picture thinking
- You are excited about topics related to health, fitness, sports, and mental health

- Good English skills (German advantageous)

As part of our dynamic team, attractive benefits await you:

- New Work mentality
- Stock Option Program for key roles
- modern offices,
- in central location in Vienna (1050 <3) or Linz (Neue Werft)
- flexible working hours,
- the possibility of home/mobile office (up to 100%) and much more...

Do you also want to work in a growing and innovative company? Experience meaningful work? Contribute? Make a difference? Become part of our team? Then apply now!

The monthly minimum salary for this position, according to the collective agreement, is EUR 3,455 gross on a full-time basis. Depending on your experience and qualifications, there is a willingness to offer higher compensation. Additionally, a stock option model is available for employees in key roles.

Send application to:

Nadja Kölbl MA
Marketing & Communications

moveeffect

moveeffect GmbH

Email: nadja.koelbl@moveeffect.com

Tel: +43(0)664-1569618

www.moveeffect.com

We are the digital solution for corporate health management